What Are the Principles of Accounting?

The principles of accounting are a set of standardized guidelines that govern the recording, reporting, and interpretation of financial data. These principles ensure consistency, reliability, and comparability of financial statements across different entities and periods.

- The Money Measurement Principle

Only transactions measurable in monetary terms are recorded in the books of accounts.
Non-monetary information is excluded.

- The Going Concern Principle

Assumes that a business will continue to operate in the foreseeable future unless there is evidence to the contrary.

- The Cost Principle

Assets are recorded at their original purchase cost, not their current market value.

- The Accrual Principle

Transactions are recorded when they occur, not when cash is received or paid, enabling matching of revenues and expenses.

- The Consistency Principle

Accounting methods should be applied consistently across periods to allow comparability.

- The Conservatism Principle

In cases of doubt, accountants should choose the option that results in lower profits or asset values to avoid overstatement.
